Ghar-Sabha Planning and Syllabus Lead Seva Guidelines

1. Objective

1.1. The prime objective is to promote, establish, and strengthen the practice of Ghar-Sabha—an innovative initiative introduced by H.H.Pramukh Swami Maharaj in order to beautify homes, resolve domestic discord, and build close-knit, harmonious families.

1.2. Inspire kids, youth, and the emerging generation toward Hindu Sanatan Dharma, instilling its core values, rich heritage, and spiritual importance.

1.3. Bridge generation gaps, eliminate misconceptions, and foster mutual respect, effective communication, and understanding between parents and children.

1.4. Build, maintain, and develop Samp, Suhradbhav, and Ekta among haribhakts and family members.

1.5. Earn the rajipo of Satpurush by guiding families to pray, talk, eat, and spend quality time together.

2. Syllabus and Program flow

2.1. Discuss and finalize the Ghar-Sabha syllabus, presentation materials, and program flow with Pu. Santo throughout the course/term.

2.2. Prepare weekly (twice a week – total 8 to 10 syllabus topics per month) Ghar-Sabha syllabus content focused on specific themes, ensuring release during the last week of every month for distribution to over 2,300 haribhakts across Australia and New Zealand.

2.3. Structure the Ghar-Sabha package for each week using pre-approved templates with a designated flow: Dhun – Stuti – Vanchan – Activity – Video Topic Related – Samapan Shlok.

2.4. Design syllabus content suitable for all age groups (from kids to adults), covering the significance of all Hindu festivals.

2.5. Ensure Prasangs, Goshthis, and Activities are available in the English language alongside traditional gujarati text.

2.6. Maintain typography and formatting standards: use Krishna UNI font for Gujarati text and Avenir font for English text across weekly packages, and ensure all other inspirational materials use Krishna UNI font for Gujarati.

2.7. Format each syllabus topic into a clean, simple PDF document that is easily accessible across portable devices (mobiles, tablets, laptops).

2.8. Integrate video content via Vimeo streaming platforms (ensuring direct viewing without requiring downloads).

2.9. Design activities and games tailored for families with young kids, creating an engaging platform for spending quality time together while embedding key learnings of family unity.

3. Distribution, Engagement, and Inspiration

3.1. Release the upcoming month's Ghar-Sabha package on the last Saturday of the previous month via the official Telegram channel.

3.2. Share regular inspirational content via the Telegram channel to encourage continuous participation:

- Tuesday: Inspirational Prasang
- Thursday: Inspirational Quotes of Satpurush

Published on 15/08/2026

- Saturday: Inspirational Experience Shorts of ANZ haribhakts

3.3. Coordinate with Pu. Santo to organize live Zoom goshthi sessions in the presence of Pu. Santo on a quarterly basis to engage and inspire families.

3.4. Manage telegram channels, SDC query forms, and administrative email communications for seamless resource distribution.

4. Reporting & Analytics

4.1. Access and extract data through the Vimeo Portal based on the total number of viewers.

4.2. 4.2. Present monthly reporting in the monthly SDC meeting detailing metrics for Unique Ghar-Sabha Doers and Total Ghar-Sabhas Done.

5. Other Notes

5.1. The roles and responsibilities outlined above are the primary focus of the Ghar-Sabha Planning and Syllabus Lead; however, it remains everyone's collective responsibility to ensure all operations and events run smoothly, efficiently, and on time.

5.2. The guidelines and information provided in this document are not exhaustive. Additional directives and updates will be communicated through formal and informal channels (written notes, meetings, in-person discussions, phone calls, or virtual forums) as deemed necessary under the guidance of Pu. Santo and SDC leadership.
